APOTHEOSIS OF DEWEY

DAY OF SUPREME SIGNIFICANCE IN THE LIFE OF THE PEOPLE'S ADMIRAL.

At the National Capital and in the Mind's Eye of the World America Performs the Deed Which Awards a Recognition of Immortality.

As Great After Victory as Before It, He Modestly Takes from the Hand of the President the Magnificent Sword Voted by Congress. Eloquent and Prophetic Address by Secretary Long—Popular Enthusiasm.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The culmination of Admiral Dewey's triumphal home-coming was reached today in the shadow of the dome of the national Capitol. Here he received from the hands of the President the magnificent jeweled sword voted by Congress in commemoration of the victory of Manila Bay. This was the official reason for the ceremony. But mere official sanction could never have thrown into the demonstration the fervor of enthusiasm that was meted out to the admiral as he appeared before the vast audience, composed not only of all the highest officials in the land, but of spectators drawn from every quarter of the United States.

The battle of Manila Bay was not forgotten, but it might be said to have been relegated almost to second place in the desire to do honor to the man who had proved himself as great after victory as before it, and who had shown in the long trying months that followed his triumph the qualities of a statesman and wise administrator, as well as those of the fighting leader of a victorious fleet.

And enhancing these qualities was that of manly modesty displayed in the quiet dignity with which he met the occasion. This trait of Dewey's character was in evidence from the moment he reached the stand side by side with the President. He paused at this point for a moment, unwilling apparently to take the place that had been prepared for him on the right of the platform, least he should appear to usurp the place due to the Chief Magistrate.

President McKinley grasped the situation in an instant, and, taking the great sea captain by the arm, placed him by gentle force in the chair that had been intended for him. Later in the day, as the carriages bearing the official party drove away from the Capitol, between walls of cheering people, the President again displayed his tact by remaining covered and ignoring the demonstration himself, leaving it to the admiral to acknowledge to the admiral.

For Dewey, it was a trying as well as a triumphal day. It had been given to few officers in the naval history of the country to sit before a crowd of thousands while the chief of the naval establishment dilated on his exploits. And then to stand before the same crowd to receive at the hands of the President a sword prepared for him at the behest of the representatives of the whole people. The strain upon Admiral Dewey reached almost to the breaking point. None but those nearest to him could see how he labored to repress his feelings during the address of Secretary Long, but when he arose to receive the sword from the hands of the President, no one could mistake the flash of the white gloved hand as it rose to dash away the tears before the Admiral came to the rigid attitude of "attention" before his chief.

When it came Dewey's turn to reply, his voice failed him, and he made the effort twice before his lips would respond. When he did succeed his tones were clear and steady, but so low that only those nearest him could hear.

There was an exquisite comedy following the trying formalities, though it escaped all but those directly on the stand. As the admiral closed and took his seat, he turned to the President, and in a tone of quizzical appeal inquired: "Now, really, do you not think I did pretty well for an amateur?"

Once during the ceremonies Secretary Long embraced an opportunity to ease the trying situation for the chief actor in the day's events. When the Secretary began his address, the sun was shining directly in Admiral Dewey's eyes, and without his hat he was at its mercy. The Secretary quietly inserted in his address a low aside: "Admiral, turn your chair a little; we don't want to have you blind."

One of the most remarkable features of the eventful day was the ovation to Rear-Admiral Schley on the return of the party from the Capitol to the White House. His carriage was several numbers behind that of the President and Admiral Dewey and received an ovation that scarcely ranked below that accorded to the admiral himself. The tumult grew as the carriage paced down the avenue, and the crowd surged around it until the horses were brought to a foot pace. Finally a company of the High School Cadets

NOT IF HE IS WISE.

(Dewey to Politician): "What, and submit to that sort of thing? Never!"

came to the rescue and formed about the carriage in a hollow square. Thus protected and flanked by a force of police, the carriage reached the White House with a long gap between it and the next official guests.
Out of the store of his experience the President was able to give Admiral Dewey one valuable suggestion before leaving the Capitol. The venerable Cardinal Gibbons was presented, and after an exchange of greetings, the President asked the admiral if he felt equal to a general order of handshaking. The hero of Manila swerved from the shock, explaining that his right arm was partially paralyzed from his experience in New York.
"Let me suggest to you," said the President, "hereafter you shake the other man's hand; don't let him shake yours. You save yourself by not letting them get the grasp on you."
SURPRISED THE PRESIDENT.
Washington Endorses His Expansion Sentiment With a Yell.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If anybody has a doubt about where President McKinley stands, just now, upon the Philippine proposition, this brief sentence addressed today by the President to Admiral Dewey, in the presence of about twenty-five thousand people, settles that question: "There shall be no faltering in maintaining it."
Washington crowds are usually unsympathetic and undemonstrative. This vast assemblage cheered Dewey wildly, and listened with reasonable patience to the speech by Secretary Long when he presented the sword voted by Congress to Dewey. Then Secretary Long handed the sword over to President McKinley that Dewey might receive it direct from the hands of the President.
President McKinley turned and faced Dewey squarely. He began in a low tone to present the sword, but within three minutes his enthusiasm mastered him, so that he raised his voice, which trembled with earnestness, and made a declaration to the original expansionist, George Dewey, worth about two columns of the usual political oratory.
Then a peculiar thing happened, considering that Washington naturally does not enthuse much. That vast assemblage arose and yelled till it was almost black in the face. It knew exactly what the President meant and understood how profoundly he meant it. That little sentence created more enthusiasm than Washington has yet shown over Dewey himself, which is saying a great deal. Everybody yelled for a couple of minutes, and President McKinley looked surprised. Dewey was piqued beyond measure. He smiled broadly, and the crowd yelled for several minutes more just to show that expansion really did not strike them so unfavorably. This little episode was the only thing with political significance which crept into the celebration here, and it was not meant politically, either.

MINES AND MINING.

FURTHER REPORTS OF WATER SCARCITY AT THE NORTH.

North Hemet Mines—The Grapevine District—Tonto Basin, Arizona. Sale of New Mexico Properties. Strike in the Keystone—Notes.

According to reports from the northern part of the State the scarcity of water there for mining purposes is more serious than was at first supposed. In an article on the situation the San Francisco Chronicle has this further to say about it: "One of the notable features in the mining news of the week is the closing down of many mines in various parts of the State owing to the lack of water. The Utica, Rawhide and other famous producers are in the list."

But this is, possibly, only another case of where lasting good will result from temporary evil, for the Chronicle continues, saying: "It has one advantage to mine-owners which they never fail to grasp—it gives an opportunity to fix up things in and out of the mine. The water shortage has expressed themselves in favor of the movement for the preservation of the forests and the impounding of flood waters. There is a strong sentiment among the members in favor of extending the teaching of agriculture in the public schools of the State, and to this end sanction has been given to the movement to exempt Stanford University and the Lick School of Mechanical Arts from taxation."

NORTH HEMET MINES.

The North Hemet group of mines, in the Cahulla district, which was purchased some weeks ago from Riverside, Cal., parties by Denver people, bids fair, says the Riverside Enterprise, to be the center of a very lively mining camp this winter. It is stated that the present owners have made contracts with various parties to do the hauling of lumber, machinery, pipe and other supplies to the mines. They have also had them surveyed, "and in a position to know, states that it is the intention of the company to thoroughly open up the mines, which will mean the expenditure of a large amount of money."

GRAPEVINE DISTRICT, SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

The San Diego Union prints the substance of an investigation made by C. H. Atkins, of the Great California Mining Company, of the Grapevine district, San Diego county. Regarding the development work now being done in the camp, Mr. Atkins states that his company is running tunnels in two mines and sinking a shaft on another. One of the tunnels is in the Mercury mine and is now thirty feet, about eight of which is through ore. The first ore taken out is thought to be richer than the farther in the tunnel goes, although no recent assays have been made. The other tunnel is in the Old Pick mine at Murphysboro, near the desert. This is in twenty-two feet, twelve of which is in ore. There is thought to be about three hundred feet of solid ore there. The first ore taken out assayed $3.02 to the ton.

The company is also sinking a shaft on the Gen. Grant mine near Warner's ranch. The shaft is down to a depth of thirty-two feet, but no assays have been made. Mr. Atkins said that as soon as the mines are sufficiently developed it is very probable that the company will put up a mill to take out the gold. Considerable money will be spent first, however, in developing the claims of the company between Warner's ranch and the Tonto Basin, in the Gun Creek mining district, Gill county, Ariz. The Warner, Ariz., Mail says that according to reliable report this district is likely to equal any other in Arizona in the richness of its ores. One group of mines in the Basin, lately acquired by eastern parties, is showing up remarkably well, and in addition to the values they have an abundance of good water and plenty of timber right at the mines.

THE CHUCKAWALLA DISTRICT.

The Chuckawalla Mining Company, which owns a group of claims in the Chuckawalla Mountains, Riverside county, has just completed the erection of a mill to crush their ore. This Riverbank Press in account of the property, says: "The most prominent of the group is the Sucker State. About a thousand feet of development work has been done, showing a fine body of ore. The ledge is about eighteen to twenty feet in width. Three shafts are down over 100 feet each, all in ore. The day streak is six feet thick, and wide, averaging $18 in gold, and from 5 to 12 per cent. copper to the ton."

SALE OF THE CELL AND CLIMAX MINES.

The Silver City (N. M.) Enterprise contains an account of the sale of the Cell and Climax mines, in New Mexico, to Illinois capitalists. These properties were discovered about nine years ago, and some late developments made in them shows the ore to be of great richness, portions of it being as high as almost pure silver. "Much of the ore," the Enterprise says, "which was taken from the development work was so rich that it was just melted with a small amount of lead in a cupelling furnace, and the lead being volatilized, the silver was taken out in planchets, and the residue was found to be similar to that which made the Mollie Gibson of Colorado so famous."

STRIKE IN THE KEYSTONE.

The Amador (Cal.) Republican reports a rich strike in the Keystone mine, near Amador City, in its account of the Republican says:

"Nothing definite can be learned regarding the finding of ore or the extent of the yellow metal, as the mine officials refuse to give out any important information. But, notwithstanding, the report was affirmed by the officials, and it is no case was it denied."

During the day in which the discovery was made, so the report says, about $5000 was taken out. The free gold was brought up in sacks, and among some of the larger pieces of gold found was a nugget measuring eighteen inches in length, eight inches in width and one-half an inch in thickness. Old and experienced miners who are familiar with the Keystone ground say that the mine abounds in pockets, and that former discoveries have proven them to be very rich ones.

MINING UNDER BUTTE CITY.

Advices from Montana are that after several weeks of deliberation upon the questions of expediency and of legal right it has been decided to proceed at once to explore the depths under Butte's business center. A remarkable discovery of ore was made while excavating for the erection of a block of buildings, and it was that discovery that led to the determination to mine under the city.

MINING NOTES.

The first discovery of gold in the Julian district, Col., was made on Coleman Creek by a woman in 1869, in the bed of the creek. The largest pumping engine in the world is in the Calumet and Hecla mines, Michigan.

There are 3000 shareholders in the Calumet and Hecla Copper Company, very few of them hold over 1000 shares. The original gold nugget found by Marshall at Coloma, Cal., January 19, 1848, is now in the possession of W. W. Allen, No. 223 Theban building, San Francisco.

There are 270,000 men at work within a short radius of Butte, Mont., it is estimated that the gross daily value of trade is $6,000,000. So great is the rush of work in the iron regions that it is difficult to secure workmen enough, while in other parts the forces are occasionally laid off for want of immediate supplies of the raw material.

A company has been organized to work the Poverty Point and Kanaka placer claims on the Klamath River, opposite Oak Bar, Multnomah county, Cal., at an elevation of 1900 feet. These two properties yielded large returns about twenty years ago but by drifting and the present owners have put in a modern hydraulic plant, expects handsome returns. A four-mile ditch from Butte to the Poverty Point tributary of Horse Creek, on the Klamath River, will furnish water to the mine.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] ST. JOHNS (N. F.), Oct. 3.—The Warren Line steamer Bay State, Capt. Walter, from Liverpool, September 25, for Boston, with a general cargo, is ashore near Cape Race. Her crew and a number of cattlemen, who were passengers, are adrift in boats, which are lost in the fog. One boat has reached Cape Fuller.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] ST. JOHNS (N. F.), Oct. 3.—The Bay State will be a total loss. Four boats containing the captain and sixty men were picked up by the bark Flora, and landed at Cape Broyle this evening. Another boat with fifteen men aboard is still missing.

Another Great Day at the Fisher Sale.

The Southern California Music Co. Makes More Special Offers.

Seldom, if ever, has any event in mercantile Los Angeles attracted so much attention as our forced sale at sacrifice prices of the stock formerly owned by the Fisher Music House.

While we endeavor by our public announcements to interest you and, if possible, to persuade you, in your own interest, to investigate this special sale, it has been our aim to eliminate every word from our advertising that would seem sensational or exaggerated. The plain truth will serve our ends quite as well as a dip in the depth of sensationalism.

We wish, however, to impress the important points: First, that every piano owned by this company is offered for sale at a less price than you can today duplicate the same article from the factory direct. Second, that every musical instrument in our store, large or small, is also greatly reduced. These reductions on small instruments, we frankly state, are more for the purpose of drawing public attention to our earnestness in bringing this sale to a successful issue.

It is our object to sell a great many pianos before the doors are locked on Saturday night. In fact, it is imperative that the stock shall quickly be reduced to its normal condition.

We are making prices accordingly, and prices accordingly mean the lowest figures on instruments of unimpeachable quality and honored name that you have ever known. We simply ask you to investigate this matter and satisfy yourself about the conditions. Investigate this week, today, now, and you will save money.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA MUSIC CO. 216-218 West Third Street. Broadway Building.

Sousa.

[Chicago News.] One of the most phenomenal rises to fortune and fame in the career of Sousa, the bandmaster. There are a number of bands in the United States that are popular and make money, but none which actually shovel in coin as does Sousa's organization. It is said on good authority that the net profits for seventeen months' concerts have put $100,000 into Sousa's pockets. That is sufficient reason for his scurrying around the country playing one or two-night stands, and living in the uncomfortable manner travelers are obliged to endure. A few years of it and then Sousa can retire on a royal income and spend his time composing. His income from his written music and operas is large enough to give him all the money he wants, but like all other men he wants a little more. He has just finished two operas, "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp," and another for De Wolf Hopper. After the fall tour he makes a trip to Bermuda, where he can listen to the singing of the waves and gather some fresh musical ideas.

Abraham Lincoln.

[New York Sun.] William J. Bryan is going about in Nebraska mouthing the name of Lincoln in the cause of surrender to rebels.

"I want to tell you," shouted Mr. Bryan at Grand Island, "that in the course of the next eighteen months we'll quote more from Abe Lincoln than the Republicans have in all the past fifteen years."

He ought to be prevented. His purpose is an insult to the memory of the patient, unwavering patriot who tolerated no doubt or question or scheme of compromise with rebels in arms, and whose single condition of peace was contained in this memorable declaration of policy: "The war will cease on the part of the government whenever it shall have ceased on the part of those who began it."

No profanation of Abraham Lincoln's name or memory.

WORKING FOR PEACE.

KRUGER URGED TO APPEAL TO LORD SALISBURY.

Consul White Telegraphs the Boer Chief Asking Him for a Statement as to Basis for Further Negotiations.

Premier Wires That England Desires to Respect the Complete Independence of the South African Republic.

Europeans Rushing Away from Johannesburg by the Trainload. Annals Upon Englishmen in East Africa.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Oct. 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Montague White, Consul-General for the South African Republic in London, told the Associated Press this morning, that he telegraphed President Kruger yesterday, urging him to make a personal appeal to Lord Salisbury, dwelling upon the iniquity of the war and proposing a statement as a basis of further negotiations. He said he was momentarily expecting to hear that the Transvaal government was sending an ultimatum to Great Britain declaring the dispatch of troops a casus belli, in which event he would be compelled to close his offices.

Mr. White added a curious statement to the effect that a representative of one of the largest capitalists of the Rand had called upon him this morning and asserted that it was known in capitalist circles that Lord Salisbury had determined that there should not be war and had instructed the Secretary of State for the Colonies, Mr. Chamberlain, to wire to South Africa further assurances with regard to the British desire to respect the complete independence of the Transvaal. No confirmation of this is obtainable in official circles.

The dispatches from Newcastle, Natal, report that telegraphic communication is interrupted. The Chartered Bank, where the stores have been looted by the natives since the departure of the Boers and British, and of the hurried muster and dispatch of troops on both sides, have come from other points.

A telegram from Lady Smith, Natal, says that the Orange Free State troops have occupied and closed Bothas Pass, on the Free State border, and that Commandant Allister, in proceeding in the direction of Kimberley with a considerable force of artillery. Another force of artillery, under Commandant Boring, has gone to Harpersburg, while Commandant Smith commands a force of artillery en route for Kroonstad.

The latest news received from Johannesburg, filed there yesterday, indicates that the last rush of Europeans to leave the town has occurred. They crowded the trains like sardines, occupying every possible inch on the trucks. There is considerable anxiety with regard to the communication of the Boers, as communication seems to be cut off.

The Mining Commissioner stated officially that the proclamation of September 25, relating to the protection of miners, had been withdrawn, and he therefore advised all Britishers to leave as soon as possible. The British steamer Lalpura, now in the transport service, arrived last evening at Durban, Natal, with field artillery, a hospital corps and commissariat stores for India. The troops were promptly disembarked and sent by train up the country.

The Natal and the Cape have announced that no more mails will be dispatched to the Transvaal, until further notice. Last Friday's mail, however, was sent back from the frontier. A Bloemfontein dispatch says the Orange Free State government has gazetted an alien-expulsion law, and also a law forbidding the export of grain, stock and other necessities without a permit. Commanding is proceeding there at a lively rate.

According to a dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, Portuguese East Africa, a crowd of Boers who were assembled at Machadodorp Station for a view of the refugees, were engaged in the singing of a Boer song, and a severely maltreated Englishman, stabbing one and kicking and trampling upon others. It is reported there also that two ladies were outrageously assaulted at Paardkop station by Boers, one being struck in the face by a rifle shoved through the railway carriage window, and the other struck by her assailant's fists.

The War Office, it is reported, has received an offer from 2000 officers and men of the Cuban army for service in the Transvaal.

Among the steamers chartered by the British government today for purposes of transport is the Nomadic. Lloyd's publishes a report that gold valued at $250,000, in transit, has been secured by the Transvaal authorities.

GEN. BULLER'S STAFF.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Oct. 4.—The staff of Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, who is to command the British forces in South Africa, has been officially gazetted. It is the largest since the Crimean war.

PREPARATIONS CONTINUE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.) LONDON, Oct. 3.—There are no new developments in the Transvaal situation. Arrangements for the dispatch of war stores and men continue. A quantity of balloons material has been sent to South Africa, the War Office considering that military ballooning will prove of the greatest value in the kind of warfare expected in South Africa. The chartering of transports is still going on. Five vessels of the Cunard line are now engaged.

One result of the war scare is an advance of one shilling to eighteen pence in the price asked for wheat offered in the Lynn market today.

BRITAIN NOT READY.

Government is not hurrying with its ultimatum.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.) LONDON, Oct. 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] While all dispatches from South Africa dwell upon the conditions of wild excitement and the expected imminence of a Boer attack, there is in reality little change in the situation, although the massing of the Boers in all directions increases the tension.

While constant military orders are being issued here, preparations for Great Britain will be in a position to strike, although it is believed the British troops now at the frontiers of the Transvaal are not in haste to bring on war, but prefer to leave the bridge open for President Kruger's retreat as long as possible.

ORANGE GROWERS MUST ORGANIZE.

After several rather discouraging seasons, the orange growers of Southern California have, during the past year, enjoyed a season of unprecedented prosperity. Some of them have made a small fortune from their crop, and most of them have done well.

It will not, however, do for the orange growers of this section to sit down contentedly, in the belief that this condition of affairs is bound to continue, without any exertion on their part. The high prices received for oranges during the past season have been largely due to the imposition of a fair duty on foreign fruit, which duty was only secured after a hard fight by our people. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," and if the California orange growers expect to continue to reap the full benefit of their labor and investment, they must be on the alert to combat movements which would have a prejudicial effect on the industry.

One such movement as this is the proposed reciprocity treaty with Jamaica, to which The Times has referred on several occasions during the past few months. A recent statement by Hon. John A. Kasson, to the effect that the proposed treaty with Jamaica will in no way injure the citrus fruit-growing industry of this country, has been widely published, and has led some to believe that the danger in the treaty to this important industry has been exaggerated. Mr. Kasson is, however, mistaken. There is danger to California in this treaty, and those who are interested in the production of oranges and lemons will find it so, unless some effort is made to have the clause granting a reduction of 20 per cent. on citrus fruits stricken out.

It is well enough for a man in Iowa to talk about corn, hogs and cattle, but when he begins to air his knowledge on the products of California and the effects of legislation on such products he is out of his pasture, and needs to be led back. Mr. Kasson says the California orange—or at least the majority of the crop—does not come on the market until March, when the Jamaica article has all been sold. This is not the case. Our heaviest shipments range from January 10 to the middle of March. Especially is this so in normal seasons. The prices have been generally at their best during this period. To be compelled to submit to competition with West India Island fruit at its best season would cause havoc among the growers here.

If the citrus-fruit industry is to be protected, the most interested must take up the weapon of defense, and see to it that the treaty is looked after and amended—or knocked out entirely. To do this will require money, and plenty of it. A committee will have to be sent to Washington this winter, to work as did the Tariff Committee of 1897. Local committees will be compelled to issue printed matter, and a steady stream of correspondence will necessarily have to be kept up. The grower will be expected to furnish this, and the sooner some arrangement is made to get this money together, and a good working committee formed to move on to Washington, the easier and more effective will be the result. Let a tax be levied on every box of fruit produced, and see that it is paid. Business men cannot be asked to assist in this. They have troubles enough of their own. Let the old Citrus Tariff Committee get to work. Call out the old guard, and keep it out until all danger is passed.

The press dispatches tell of the loss of the steamer White Cloud, under passage from Hongkong to Manila, because of the ravages of white rats. It appears that the little animals picked the oakum out of the seams in the ship's hull and she simply collapsed, dragging down with her a portion of her crew. This incident gives a clear illustration of a disaster that has happened in American politics. The white rats of Bryanism, Populism, anarchy, rag-moneyism and crankism have picked the oakum out of the seams of the old Democratic ship, and she is now drifting, water-logged, on a turbulent sea, preparatory to making a final plunge in the year 1900.

What the Democracy needs at this time, of all times, is a few large boxes of rough-on-white-rats.

Neither Dewey nor Diaz is to be at Chicago when the corner-stone of the new postoffice is laid. This double disappointment must make Chicago feel as if she were a way station on a jerkwater line.

Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president of the University of California, announces that it is his purpose to make our university the first in the country. That is precisely what you were hired for, Mr. Wheeler.

LABOR WILL BE BENEFITED.

One of the stock arguments of the anti-expansionists is the claim that the acquisition of the Philippines was in the interests of syndicates and capitalists, and that the class which Mr. Bryan calls "the common people" will derive no benefit from the vast extension of trade which will surely follow the restoration of peace and the development of the islands under American authority and auspices. They falsely declare that the war in the Philippines is a war waged by capitalists for the benefit of capitalists, and that the laboring people of the country will be required to pay the expenses of the war, while they will derive no compensating benefits from the acquisition of the new territory. These specious pleas are designed to "split the ears of the groundlings," and to deceive the class of men to whose prejudices they make appeal. They may succeed for a time, but they will fall of their own weight in the long run, for their sophistry is so transparent that it cannot long masquerade in the guise of truth.

It must be apparent to the veriest tyro in economics that no considerable expansion of our foreign trade, not even of our domestic trade, could occur without benefiting the laboring men of the country directly; for expansion of trade means an increased output of manufactures or of agricultural products, or of both, and this increased output of products necessarily means increased employment for labor. The capitalists may conduct the commercial part of the transaction, but the men who perform the manual labor must do their part of it or the transaction will utterly fail. If we export goods we must produce them, and if we produce them we must employ labor. Thus—as territorial expansion means trade expansion—it is obvious that the acquisition of new territory will be directly beneficial to the laboring people of the United States.

Hon. John Barrett, in his address at the Simpson Auditorium, on Monday evening, showed conclusively that the Philippines, China, Japan and the Orient in general are at the threshold of an unprecedented era of development, and that these countries will soon want, in large amounts, our flour, our timber, our canned goods, butter, groceries, dried fruits, cotton, kerosene oil, chemicals, medicines, leather, machinery, electric cars, sewing machines, engines, clocks, watches, electrical supplies, etc., etc. Where is to come the supply for these heavy demands for our products? The asking of this question suggests its answer. If we supply these things we must produce them, and to produce them we must give employment to labor. In this way, and to this extent, the laboring men and women of the nation are directly interested in the subject of expansion, so-called; and their interests lie almost wholly upon the affirmative side of the question.

Senator Foraker made a good point in his speech at Hamilton, O., a few evenings ago when he said that as long as there is fighting in the Philippines there can only be two sides to it, and one is the American side. The people in this country who are opposing our soldiers ought to be able to see that if they are not for the country they are against it, and that consequently, the term traitor when applied to them is not a misnomer. So long as our soldiers are under the fire of an enemy, we do not care whether the enemy is white, black, red or any other color, it should be the pride of the good American citizen to stand behind those who are on the firing line, cheering them to the attack, at every advance they make into the enemy's country. There is a struggle on in the Philippines and our men are being killed by those in insurrection against the flag, and as Gov. Roosevelt says: "No man can hesitate in this struggle and ever afterward call himself a true American and a true patriot."

The Democrats of San Francisco have again nominated James D. Phelan for Mayor, and it looks as if the Republicans would be compelled to get up early and work late in order to pick out a man who can beat him. Mayor Phelan has made a splendid executive, having given the metropolis one of the most efficient Mayors it has ever had. While The Times likes to see the Republicans win, it likes still better to see the best man win, and unless a more deserving man than Mayor Phelan can be put up against him it were better for San Francisco and the State that the brilliant young Democrat, who has courage, integrity and ability, shall continue in an office which gives him such a wide range of much satisfaction to the best interests of all concerned. Still, we submit that there ought to be in the Republican party of San Francisco a man who will make as good a Mayor as has Mr. Phelan; it should be the business of the leaders of the party in San Francisco to trot him out.

The utility of the car fender has again been shown in Los Angeles in a way that at least one man and his bicycle appreciates. A Pico-street car, fortunately outfitted with a fender, gently picked up a bicycle rider and his wheel on Monday afternoon without injury worth speaking of to either the man or the machine. In the light of such instances as this it appears somewhat extraordinary that all the cars in the city are not at once equipped with these very necessary life-saving devices, to the preservation of life and limb, but also to the pecuniary benefit of the street railway companies which may, by this simple method, save themselves from some very expensive bills of damages. The street-car fender is a good thing and it ought to be pushed along in front of every street car in town.

Adj.-Gen. Dalton of Massachusetts reports that the welcome given to Dewey has been a good thing for the East, in that it has stirred up the liver of the populace, which has been somewhat torpid of late, because of the bile of Atkinsonism that has unduly pervaded it. There has really been but little doubt at any time regarding the sentiment of the people of Massachusetts, for it has been well known that the gang of Atkinson cranks is a small one, though excessively noisy and vastly unfraternal. Gen. Dalton says that Massachusetts shied a little at expansion when it first came up. This may be accounted for, if true, because of the fact that the Boston Filipinos began their aggressive campaign of treasonable talk before the patriotic people of Massachusetts had a chance to pull themselves together. If we are glad of Dewey's return for no other reason, we can well afford to be if it has assisted in causing Massachusetts to get into line with the overmastering sentiment of the remainder of the country.

The dark red record of the Southern Pacific Railroad, which was further extended at the Sunnyside crossing in San Francisco last Sunday night by the San José train, was brought about, according to the testimony of the gate-keeper at that point, because the gates at the crossing had been out of repair for over a month. It will be hardly fair for Mr. Kruttschnitt to say that this terrible accident, which caused the death of two persons and serious injury to two others, is part of his cycle business. Had the crossing gates been repaired when they should have been, there would have been an hiatus in Mr. Kruttschnitt's cycle, which the surviving members of the little family of the late Lorenzo Clordella would certainly appreciate. It would seem to be a heavy line at the bottom of his voluminous crimson roster.

The yachtsmen should bring their boats over here, where we have a trade wind constantly on tap. The failure of the Shamrock and Columbia to make a race yesterday simply prolongs the agony. All good Americans will continue to wish the best boat may win, whether the race be sailed sooner or later.

The Southern Pacific announces an increase of rates on twenty-two commodities from all points in California to certain eastern terminals. This elevation of rates may be attributed to the extraordinary expense brought upon the corporation by Mr. Kruttschnitt's prolonged accident cycle.

Embalmers Egan is hoping to stir up Congress in order to secure a vindication. It is to be hoped that the American people are not going to be compelled to hold their noses until their arms ache while Gen. Egan reopens some beef cans that bulge at the ends.

We trust that the Dewey admirers will give the admiral a few hours' time in which to ride around Washington and pick out a house that would suit him; one that will cost something like $50,000, for we happen to know where the money is to pay for it.

The Hon. Jerry Botkin of Kansas says that "The great need of the Populist party now is the offices to enable it to fight trusts." Had the Hon. Jerry omitted the last six words in the above sentence his assertion would have been generally believed.

The New York papers are still discussing the question as to when the nineteenth century ends, but let us be patient. The next time the argument is on over this momentous question of a century's end we won't be here to hear it.

President Kruger is waiting for wet weather and the Americans in the Philippines are waiting for dry weather before having their fall war openings. There are some curious things about this war business.

Since Jerry Simpson was hissed off the stage at Wichita the other night, the sage of Medicine Lodge seems to have become as silent as the grave; in fact, he is as still as an entire cemetery.

We shouldn't be surprised that Dewey cannot make a speech. He does his talking through a thirteen-line megaphone, for which a large charge of powder furnishes the voice.

Three volcanoes are active in Alaska. There are few places where a volcano can make itself more useful than in melting glaciers upon which prospectors acquire the cold-foot habit.

As soon as we get Admiral Dewey again seated fairly "in our midst," we will be able to give "Oom" Paul somewhat more attention than we have for a few days past.

The Indianapolis Journal asks, "Are we an emotional people?" Considering the way the people in New York acted last Friday and Saturday we feel called upon to say, yes, bet!

The Baltimore American is talking about the man with the autohoe. We know he ought to, but half the time he can't get him to do it without the aid of a club.

It would be a great satisfaction to the people of this country who haven't seen Admiral Dewey, to know which one of his pictures looks like him.

A Nebraska farmer who hasn't been operated upon for appendicitis is not considered one of the corn princes of that prosperous section.

New York should rejoice in the fact that, although Dewey did arrive before dawn, he did not proceed to "shoot up the town."

Oom Paul appears to have a press censor who knows his business.

CAPT. CARTER'S CASE.

Write Ordering Him Brought into Court is Served.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—A representative of the law firm of Kellogg, Rose and Smith has served writ of habeas corpus on Capt. B. K. ## GOT MONEY'S WORTH.

ORATORY THROWN IN WITH POULTRY AT DALLAS.

Democratic Doctrine Distributed from Half a Dozen Platforms. Large Delegations Take Advantage of Double Show.

James P. Tarvin Discourses on Trusts and Free Silver—Says the Party Stands Committed to the Chicago Platform.

O. H. P. Belmont Has No Time to Spend on Issues, but Makes a Fine Harmony—Bryan's Opinion of the Boers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] DALLAS (Tex.), Oct. 3.—Last night's and this morning's trains brought in large delegations to swell the throngs of Democrats who have come to attend the carnival. Democratic doctrine was expounded from half a dozen platforms morning, afternoon and evening yesterday, but many prominent party men, who are here from all parts of the country, are yet to be heard.

Today the crowd is larger and the interest is heightened by the programme of oratory prepared for the entertainment. The State Fair, usually the event of the year in this section, has been almost lost sight of in the present political demonstrations, which were arranged as an adjunct to the agricultural exhibit. Prize butter and blue-ribbon poultry have become tame topics of discussion when placed in connection with expansion and the trusts.

The fair grounds were crowded long before 10:30 o'clock, the hour fixed for the first speech of the morning.

Col. Bryan and party arrived at the grand stand at 10:25 o'clock. Ex-Gov. Crittenden and Maj. Salmon of Missouri, Judge Tarvin of Kentucky, Gov. Sayers of Arkansas, and party, including Champ Clark, John I. Martin, Congressman Sulzer, O. H. P. Belmont and the entire Texas delegation sat on the platform.

At 11:45 o'clock Chairman Carden called the meeting to order and introduced Hon. James P. Tarvin, president of the Ohio Valley League of Bimetallic Clubs. Judge Tarvin said in part:

"The Democracy of this nation now stands upon a declaration of principles applicable to all conditions, all kinds and all conditions. It is a declaration suited not only to the poor, but to the rich as well; to those in the East, in the West, in the North and in the South; to the black and to the white alike, and to all men without distinction of race, color or religion."

"We declare that individual labor and individual enterprise constitute the basis of all that is of all that has been and of all that can be. We assert that every dollar of wealth in this land owes its being to the sweat of labor; that no corporation ever created a dollar, that no trust ever created a dollar, and that no government ever created a dollar. Every corporation on earth might die, the world would still exist; every trust in the world might dissolve, the world still live; every government might go, and still the people could live; but when the sweat of labor ceases to flow, when the hand ceases to bear its burden, and when the muscles of labor cease to strain, then the corporations, the trusts, the governments and the world no longer live."

Tarvin spoke of the operation of trusts, and concluded by saying: "The trust is not a creature of God; the trust is not a result of the operation of natural laws; the trust is not a natural thing; the trust is a creature of the child of legislation. To it the corporate principle is the breath of life. Without the corporation the trust cannot live, and the corporation is the creature of legislation. Legislatures undertook to create a bigger and stronger man than the God of the legislator; the legislator took men, three men, or a hundred men, and put them together, and thereby made a legislative trust; the legislator took two men, three men, or a hundred men, and put that wealth together. This creature of the Legislature was the first trust in the world. Legislation was sent forth to compete with the individual in all the departments of business. The corporation has perished. Last fall, by trick and money and by vigorous beating of the San Juan drum, the Republicans elected the trust to power. They have taken out a difference between 246,000 of two short years ago and 16,000. The Hanna party exhausted efforts to elect a Republican in 1900. The Democrats of Texas, whatever else you may doubt, be sure of the eastern Democracy; be sure of the general party, loyal to you, as it is loyal to itself. If New York's Democracy were in control of the party, the convention would not have been so simplicity itself. It would make Bryan the candidate. Bryan the issue, Bryan the battle cry. As the gates to party victory in November, 1900, speaking for the New York Democracy and in the name of the sentiment, 'Bryan and harmony'."

COL. WETMORE'S SPEECH. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] DALLAS, Oct. 3.—Col. M. C. Wetmore of St. Louis, followed Mr. Tarvin. He spoke as follows:

"One of the strangest sights witnessed at the siege of Sebastopol during the Crimean War was the unexpected appearance of swarms of vultures—until then entirely unknown to that region—which awaited the opportunity to swoop down upon the heroic but unfortunate soldiers who fell in battle. In the human race, like men, there are swarms of vultures, who feast and fatten on the miseries and misfortunes of others, and it is a sad sign of the decadence of the nineteenth century, that the field selected for the operations of these scavenger vultures is the most advanced and powerful republic in the world's history."

"The free and enlightened citizens of the United States, with the most liberal form of government ever known, seem to be the chief sufferers from this scourge. It was this class that took advantage of the distress of the country and the necessity of the government for revenue during the great civil war, and succeeded in enriching themselves at the expense of the public by means of the so-called 'protective tariff'; and now, at a time when the country is just recovering from an unusually long period of business stagnation and depression, and the people were naturally expecting and eagerly looking forward to an era of improvement and permanent prosperity, their hopes have been shattered by this same class, who, encouraged by the success of their former efforts, are now endeavoring to fasten upon the country one of the most audacious, gigantic and diabolical schemes of plunder and pillage that the ingenuity of man can devise—or the human mind conceive. The trust system is the scourge that is in the plan of these conspirators to plunder the people, and a natural outgrowth of the protective tariff, although indirectly it is the effect of the tariff for while the protective tariff shut out foreign competition and the necessity of life were heavily taxed, under the trust system competition is made complete, and the entire population is forced to pay tribute to these conspirators. These burdens, falling most heavily upon those least able to bear it, it was claimed by the advocates of the protective tariff in the beginning that it is an economic measure, should be afforded protection from the competition of the pauper labor of Europe, and under the protection of this measure a steady decline began in the rates of wages. It is now claimed by the advocates of the trust system that it is a political measure for the cheapening of production and straightening the prices of all trust products begin to advance. The reality of these conditions is a deception practiced can easily be seen and readily understood by any one who will give the matter a little thought. An analysis of fact shows, is no philanthropy or benevolence in their composition."

"The trust system is born of a spirit of avarice and respect is entirely selfish in its character, and has a supreme contempt for the laws of nature, God and man. The trust knows no law which it is bound to respect, and with it the end always justifies the means. Its sole aim and object is to extort money from the people. It is greater in power than the party, and that party ought to be the servant and not the master."

"We gather in the name of Democracy on the eve of a tremendous Presidential campaign. With the convention still months away, the Democratic party is practically settled upon by the people. The nomination will be made in the name of Bryan, and Democracy's next candidate for the country's next President, is heard on every lip."

"I will say but little. Not that I feel lightly about them. Like you, I feel that the very tenure of American institutions is at stake. Our war in 1900 will be a war for liberty and independence as was that of our forefathers in 1776. Imperialism, monopoly, militarism, finance, income tax; all clamor for consideration."

"There is one topic, however, of which I may briefly expand. It is Democracy and party unity. It must be invoked. There must come an unbroken party front to build up victory and win triumph from the battle of 1900. The party must rally his voice to disturb it will be guilty of a great crime."

"And now in the name of harmony, let me furnish you with some food for thought. The Democracy of New York; the Democracy from which I come to you, and which I strain no truth when I say I feel that all shames and respects are in the coming battle. It will stand by and stay with you to the glorious last. I repeat the words of the Declaration of the Alleghenies. Papers and politicians, mugwump Republicans and traitors wearing the mask of Democracy, will ever and anon tell you of Democratic defection in the East. Such are the lies of the enemies of the party. They are paid by Republican money. Their inspiration is Hanna. Their purpose is the disorganization of Democracy and the setting of the South and West against the East."

"I am here today to refute those stories. I have come 2500 miles to brand the Hanna scoundrel, and to tell you that the New York Democracy, the whole eastern Democracy has never in its history been more united than it is today. Name Bryan, make your platform what you will, and in the East not one in a hundred of all who ever wore the party badge will be missing from Democracy's muster in November, 1900. More than that, there will be with them thousands upon thousands of others who, by the aid of honest men long before they are Republicans, will leave that party of infamy and dishonor, and will join the followers of Jefferson, strike one blow for Bryan and the nation's salvation."

"Look at what we have done in New York. In 1896 we lost the State by 246,000 plurality. The New York Democracy, the whole eastern Democracy, went down, scuttled by Clevelandism. It is not my purpose to extol the virtues of the long-haired man who sits at Princeton. Yet I tell you in candor he was the blight. It was he who prepared Democracy for defeat in 1896. I do not say that. I say that under a landslide of which history never knew the parallel. But the eclipse of Cleveland did not end. It was a blot on the face of the Republic, and by vigorous beating of the San Juan drum, the Republicans elected the trust to power. They have taken out a difference between 246,000 of two short years ago and 16,000. The Hanna party exhausted efforts to elect a Republican in 1900. # EQUINE KINGS ARRIVE.

JOE PATCHEN AND JOHN R. GENTRY AT AGRICULTURAL PARK.

World's Record May Be Broken at the Fall Meet Here—The Official Programme—"Hidalgo's" Remarks About the Great Racers.

Two of the fastest pacers that ever carried harness arrived yesterday, and are now quartered at Agricultural Park, where they will go in training for the star events of the Sixth District race meet, which opens October 21. These famous sidewheelers are Joe Patchen, with a record for the mile of 2:01 1/4, and John R. Gentry, who has stepped his mile in the remarkable time of 2:00 1/4.

The horses came straight from Wichita Kan., in a special car of the Wells-Fargo Express Company, and arrived without the slightest mishap. They were shipped last Saturday, making the trip in sixty hours. Both animals are in the pink of condition, and look equal to the great things expected of them this fall.

The car which carried these equine kings to the city is the first of its kind ever brought to the Coast. It was designed expressly for shipping valuable live stock, and is provided with every convenience. In the clear it is sixty feet from end to end, and almost twelve inches wider than the ordinary express car. Two partitions divide it into three compartments, the largest being devoted to stalls. There are two large box stalls and four single stalls, all well padded. Sleeping compartments for the groom and blacksmith are provided in the second space, for such monarchs of the turf as travel with their own force and smithy.

W. J. Andrews, who is managing John R. Gentry this season, and John Dickerson, filling the same capacity for Joe Patchen's owner, are greatly pleased with the prospect of lowering the world's pacing record this fall.

"With a good track," said Mr. Dickerson yesterday, "there is no reason why Joe can't beat his own record, and that of Star Pointer, in the great race last August. Joe defeated Star Pointer, the only harness horse that ever covered the mile in 2:00 1/4, and did so in good form, too. Our last race before coming west was paced on an abominable track against a stiff wind, but in spite of these drawbacks the first mile was covered in 2:03 1/4, and the second in 2:02 3/4. Now if we can do that in Kansas, surely we can do it here in California. My only regret is that we are not going to winter here. But, we come for the express purpose of attending the Los Angeles meet and then return at once."

"Hidalgo," the turf writer, has this to say of the two great pacers. "Joe Patchen is a black stallion with a blaze face and four white feet. Such a campaigner as he has been; hard at it ever since he was a yearling, and his legs clean enough for a yearling. Think of the horses that have gone out of sight since he left here—Mascoe, Dan Patch, and others of records below 2:07, and yet old Joe is sound as a pine knot and full of vigor. He looks more like a thoroughbred than any horse I have ever seen of his size in the world. High quality in appearance, is not unusual with small harness horses, but in giants like old Joe it is a rarity.

"Following is his breeding: Joe Patchen, bl. h., 1899, No. 0123. Patchen, Wilkes-George Wilkes-Kitty Patchen. "Josephine Young-Joe Young, mare not traced. "John R. Gentry is a much smaller horse than Joe Patchen, but one on which the lover of good conformation can feast his eyes. He is a blood bay, entirely without white, and is not as tall as Patchen by nearly three inches, but his deep chest and broad loins proclaim him a little giant, such as Tom Sayers was among prize-fighters. His head and neck are almost poetic in their outlines and recall the famous galloper Luke Blackburn, in his palmy days. John R. Gentry is also ten years old and has helped to retire almost as many great performers as the big black horse who is now his most dreaded rival. His breeding is as follows: "John R. Gentry, bl. h., 1899, No. 12,645. Ashland Wilkes-Red Wilkes-Daisy B.

"Dame Wood-Wedgewood, (2:17 1/2). Fanny, not traced. "Thus it will be seen that these great performers, each with records below 2:05, are grandsons of George Wilkes, whose line seems to be, both at the pace and the trot, the great line for extreme speed. Star Pointer, the only horse that beat these two famous stallions, comes from another class of horses entirely, while these two descendants of Rysdyk's Hambletonian 10, whose descendants, through the great Electioneer, made Palo Alto the talk of the civilized world. Secretary Thorne has received a telegram from Tom Keating, saying that Anconida is in splendid form and will be here in ample time to take part in the great meet.

The official programme for the week is as follows: Sunday, October 21—First race, selling, for three-year-olds and over, that have not won two races since August 1, 1898, $250, six furlongs; second race, for three-year-olds and over, $300, one mile; third race, hurdle handicap, $300. Monday, October 22—First race, for three-year-olds and over, $250, five furlongs; second race, all ages, allowance, six furlongs; third race, selling, for three-year-olds and over that have not won a race since August 1, 1898, $250, one mile and a half. Tuesday, October 24—First race, for three-year-olds and over, non-winners this year (1898), $250, weight for age, six furlongs; second race, selling, for three-year-olds and over, $300, one mile; third race, hurdle handicap, $300. Thursday, October 26—First race, selling, for all ages, $250, five furlongs; second race, for three-year-olds and over, $250, one mile and a half. Friday, October 27—For two-year-olds, non-winners of two races, $250, six furlongs; second race, for all ages, $250, four furlongs; third race, purse, $300, conditions of this race will be announced Wednesday, October 25; gentlemen's race, one mile, catch weights, 150 pounds or over. ## RED CROSS MEETING.

Officers Elected for the Ensuing Year—Good Condition. The Red Cross Society held a regular annual meeting yesterday afternoon, at which officers were elected for the ensuing year. Reports of the secretary, treasurer and president were read, covering the minutes of the entire year. It was shown by the reports that the affairs of the association are in good shape.

Since December last the society has assisted twenty-six soldiers. The funds now on hand amount to something over $50, and the society expects to realize $65 from the sale of tickets to the Orpheum benefit. There is also about $50 which will be paid into the funds by the War Board.

The officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. W. B. Peniston; first vice-president, Miss May E. Haynes; second vice-president, Mrs. George Goodwin recording secretary, Mrs. Sara I. Wilde; financial secretary, Dr. Kate Wilde.

The members of the executive board elected are Mrs. H. H. Day, Mrs. M. E. DeForest, Mrs. M. McKernan. Another meeting will be held Monday, at which committee will be appointed.

OFFENDED OLFACTORYS.

Vernon Hog Rancher Fined for Violating Health Ordinance.

Peter Jorgensen is a poorer but a wiser man by reason of his first experience with the Police Court yesterday. Peter is a humble Swede, who conducts a hog ranch at Vernon. Swill makes fat hogs, and as swill is to be had for the hauling of it, Peter came to town for a load of the unsavory stuff. He filled an open wagon with slops of various kinds, and was proceeding down Main street yesterday morning with his odorous cargo when he met Health Officer Powers and his deputy, Mr. Laws. The swill smelled to heaven and was dumping out of the wagon at every revolution of the wheels. Powers and Laws got one sniff of the stuff and that was enough.

"Take this fellow to the Police Station," said Dr. Powers to his assistant. "This stench is awful, and I haven't a bit of disinfectant with me." The wagon took the unhappy Swede into custody and had him arraigned in the Police Court for violating the city health laws. Jorgensen pleaded guilty and Justice Morgan fined him $5.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Tom Goss Pleads Guilty to the Charge of Petty Larceny.

Tom Goss is the name of a gray-haired petty larceny thief laid claim to in the Police Court yesterday. There was a pricking up of ears when the name was pronounced, as Tom Goss is the honorable Police Commissioner from the Second Ward. The idea of Tom Goss being arraigned for stealing a bicycle, even made the court smile.

The namesake of the venerable Police Commissioner stole a bicycle which W. L. Williams, manager of the American Engraving Company, left in front of the Times building yesterday morning. Williams reported promptly to his loss to the police, and it was not long before Detective Auble and Officer Richards learned that an old man was trying to dispose of a bicycle of description at Burke Bros' cycle on Spring street. The man who was trying to sell the wheel was promptly gathered in, and the bicycle was identified as Mr. Williams' property.

The prisoner at first asserted that he bought the wheel from Ernest, who was subsequently admitted his guilt, and made a clean breast of his crime in the Police Court. He gave as his excuse for stealing the wheel, that he was a poor, sick man, and a stranger in the city. He did not state whether the same honor by the name of Tom Goss, or not. The court condemned him to sixty days' service in the chain gang.

DR. JOHNSON HEARD FROM.

Los Angeles Camper Sick in the Mountains Beyond Kernville.

Dr. James H. Johnson and Mrs. A. L. Martin, the Los Angeles campers who were believed to have been overtaken by some disaster in the forests of Fresno county, have been heard from. They had been mysteriously missing for a number of weeks, having failed to return from their camping trip when expected, a month ago, and sent no word as to their whereabouts. Their relatives and friends were greatly alarmed and feared that they had been murdered or had become lost in the giant forests.

EQUAL TO HIS JOB.

Mounted Officer Talamantes Stops a Runaway With a Lasso.

Officer F. J. Talamantes, one of the new mounted policemen, was yesterday for the job Monday night. Talamantes is an expert in the saddle, and in the use of the riata. About 2 o'clock yesterday morning he espied a team of horses going at breakneck speed down Main street, apparently without any driver. Talamantes spurred up his own horse, overtook the flying team and lassoed the animals, bringing them to a stop. In the wagon he found the driver, Victor Seldner, dead to the world from the effects of alcoholic beverages. While Talamantes was endeavoring to put the horses away in a livery stable and send Seldner to the Police Station, J. W. Vijar, owner of the team, appeared on the scene, rather the worse for liquor himself. Vijar tried to take Seldner and the horses away from Talamantes, so the officer placed him under arrest also for interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty. Both prisoners pleaded guilty to the charge of having been intoxicated, in the Police Court yesterday, and were fined $3 each.

SAD BEGINNING.

New Swedish Pastor's Wife Dies Upon Arrival in This City.

Rev. H. F. Douren, pastor-elect of the Swedish Lutheran Church at No. 425 West Tenth street, will enter upon his new pastorate with a heavy heart. The new pastor arrived in this city yesterday morning from Ironwood, Mich., accompanied by his invalid wife, who died just as they reached the end of their journey. Rev. Douren's acceptance of a call to the pulpit of the Swedish Lutheran Church of this city, to succeed Rev. P. A. Edquist was brought about principally through the hope that the change of climate from Northern Michigan to Southern California would be beneficial to the health of his wife, who had been afflicted with pulmonary consumption for some years. He had traveled widely for his wife's health, having even taken her back to her native Sweden, but all to no purpose. The move to Los Angeles was undertaken as a last forlorn hope. The journey was made via the Chicago and Northwestern, the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific roads, but just as the train pulled into the Arcade depot, the minister's wife expired.

The bereaved gentleman was much affected by the unhappy outcome of his move. He was taken to the home of Jonas M. Snudin of No. 1615 Girard street, where many members of the parish called yesterday to express their sympathy.

The body of the dead woman was taken charge of by Undertaker Dexter Samson. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, interment to take place in Rosedale Cemetery. Mrs. Douren was 40 years old and had no children.

A TELEGRAPHIC MISTAKE.

Suit to Recover Damages from the Western Union.

A damage suit in which William E. Torpe is trying to recover $3000 from the Western Union Telegraph Company for the alleged incorrect transmission of a message, was on trial yesterday before a jury in the United States District Court.

The complainant recites that during the month of January, 1898, he was negotiating for the purchase of a tract of land at Ontario, San Bernardino county. He was in Chicago at the time and had never seen the property, but before closing the deal sent a telegram to his representative in Ontario instructing him to examine the property and report upon it.

The word "lot fifteen" in the telegram, describing the property, was changed to "lot sixteen," which caused the agent to examine the wrong lot. He reported favorably, and the transaction was closed. Afterward it was discovered that "lot fifteen"—the one purchased by Isaac Houser—was the tract to recover damages for gross negligence was brought against the telegraph company.

The defense set up by the Western Union Telegraph Company is that the message was not "repeated," which fact they claim relieves them from responsibility in case of mistake.

STRUCK BY A CAR.

Isaac Houser Run Down and Hurt While Riding a Bicycle.

Isaac Houser of No. 1221 San Julian street met with an accident yesterday morning similar to that which resulted in the death of A. W. Blumberg last Thursday. Houser was struck by an electric car while riding a bicycle on Central avenue in the vicinity of Twenty-first street. Like Blumberg, Houser is an elderly man, and did not hear the car as it approached him from the rear. Fortunately the force of the blow threw him away from the track, so that the car did not pass over him. He was severely injured in the head and back, and his face was badly bruised, but he was not rendered unconscious. The patrol wagon was called to convey him to the Receiving Hospital, but he was removed to his home instead, where a private physician attended him. Houser was a witness at the preliminary examination of Charles F. Mootry, on the charge of wife murder last week. He was a close neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Mootry, and testified that the latter frequently drank at his house for refuge from Mootry's abuse.

Deutsch and His Handbags.

E. Deutsch arrived at police headquarters yesterday with a patrol wagon half full of valises, grips and handbags of all descriptions. Deutsch was not traveling, that is, not any farther than from his store on East First street to the Police Station. His baggage receptacles were empty. Officer Walker had simply sent him and the bags to the station, because Deutsch obstructed the sidewalk with them. Deutsch had been warned that he was against the law to display goods on the sidewalk. Deutsch still persisted in blocking the pavement with his wares, so the officer arrested him for misdemeanor. Deutsch is a sickly man and promised to ally not to monopolize the sidewalk again for advertising purposes. Deputy District Attorney Chambers accordingly agreed not to file a complaint against Deutsch had to carry his bags home.

Increase in Postal Receipts.

Postmaster Mathews has completed his report of postal receipts for the month of September, which also closes up the quarter. The report shows that the receipts during the month were $17,723.83 as against $15,974.63 for September of last year, showing an increase in favor of the year of 11.3 per cent. The report for the quarter shows that the receipts have been $52,282.10, as against $45,351.56 for the same period last year, showing an increase for the quarter of 9.97 per cent.

September Weather.

The records of the Weather Bureau in Los Angeles shows the following data for the month of September, 1899: Mean atmospheric pressure, 29.85; mean temperature, 70 deg.; highest temperature, 87 deg.; lowest temperature, 51 deg.; 5th; greatest daily range of temperature, 37 deg.; 15th; least daily range of temperature, 20 deg.; mean dew point, 57 deg.; mean relative humidity, 70 per cent; average precipitation for this month for twenty-two years, .08 of an inch; total deficiency in precipitation during month, .08 of an inch; accumulated deficiency in precipitation since January 1, 5.90 inches. Number of clear days, 20; partly cloudy days, 8; cloudy days, 2.

A Silent Burial.

The first funeral service in the sign language of the deaf in Los Angeles was performed last Sunday by Lay Reader Wild at the Peck & Chase undertaking parlors, and at the Rosedale cemetery over the remains of the late William John Hughes, a deaf-mute, who had been a resident of Los Angeles for over sixteen years, and a member of the Los Angeles Association for the Deaf.

The Damage is Only Estimated at Ten Thousand Dollars, But It

May Be More Far-reaching in Its Effects Than Anticipated.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men. Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." The tide is now at flood on musical goods. Prices are right, quality is right, and the time is right to buy. So also is the place. We are not the only people who know all this. The opening days of this great sale are proof that many people know a good thing when they see it.

The people of Los Angeles know that when the entire stock of the "Old Reliable" Bartlett's Music House is offered for sale at such prices as we are now giving, that this is their opportunity to get the best goods at the lowest prices ever offered. How many people do you think were at our store yesterday? Well, really we don't know, because we didn't have time to even guess at the number. Everybody seems to know just where to come for the best of everything in the music line.

And have you seen our sample table? We do not call this our bargain table, because everything in the store is a bargain at the prices now on, but our sample table contains a few articles with prices plainly marked, so that in case you do not find a chance to talk to one of our salesmen, you will at least be able to judge for yourselves. You will find here Violins, Guitars, Banjos, Mandolins, Music Boxes, Zyliphones, Harmonicas, and various other instruments too numerous to mention. However the prices are plainly marked.

Old Prices in Black, Sale Prices in Red, and you can see for yourselves. If you do not find what you want on this table, ask for it; we have it, sure. Naturally, we cannot put our pianos on the table for samples, but we have a floor full of the latest styles: Steinway, Weber, Kimball, Wheelock, Whitney, Hemenway & Sons, and many other makes of pianos. These are beautiful cases, fine finish, good tone, excellent workmanship, and in every way desirable.

All our pianos have our personal guarantee as to quality, and the prices speak for themselves. Never before could you buy a piano at a price like this: A first-class $525 piano for $388; a high grade $460 piano for $244; another one, not quite so large, regularly sold for $350, now $185; and still another one, worth $300, sold now for $156. Others worth $250 and $200 for $137 and $116.

At such prices quoted above the cash in hand should be demanded. However, we will make our regular terms, which are $25 cash and $10 per month, as long as the stock lasts.

At such ridiculously low figures as these it would be a pity for you not to buy. It would be a mistake not to buy now. NOW means at once, right away, this week, today; because the longer you put off buying the greater will be the reduction of our stock and the fewer styles for you to choose from.

We have now on hand pianos in thirty different woods, from all parts of the world, and in any style of workmanship that you could desire. If you put off buying, some of the choicest pianos in the house will have been sold, and it will be too late for you to get that magnificent Weber in Fancy Mottled Walnut Case, the finest wood you ever saw, while the name Weber is a guarantee of the quality of the instrument.

Come today and make your selection. You will never have a better opportunity to get a piano.

KANSAS BANKS. A Kansas City newspaper says that the increase in the deposits of the local banks is the greatest on record, and that in 1898 there was nominally a greater gain, but that it was due to the return of money that had been withdrawn pending the national election of that year. One year ago the total resources of the national banks of Kansas City amounted to $37,000,000, $48,000,000 a little over two and a half months ago, and $50,000,000 as per the returns dated the 7th of last month. Loans and discounts of these banks totaled $27,027,219 on September 7 this year, $25,000,000 some two and one-half months ago, and they amounted to $22,000,000 a little less than two months ago. In 1898 the fear of flat money and the Chicago platform caused the withdrawal of deposits, but it is evident from the figures quoted that prosperity and confidence have got in their good work.

GENERAL MARKET CONDITIONS. From advance sheets sent out by the New York Commercial, the following points on the market are gleaned: At Boston extremely large quantities of wool have been made to manufacturers in the face of advancing prices. At the same point the shoe trade is very active at higher prices. The market for shoes is 15 to 25 per cent. higher and a corresponding advance is looked for in shoes.

At St. Louis all branches of business are active. Street car factories, overtaxed, and house building checked by an advance in the price of material, whether wood or metal, and bricks up 50 per cent. over a few months ago. At Fall River the mills are busy, and cloth advanced 1-16 of a cent per yard.

At Harrisburg merchants complain that orders for shoes are slow. Three months ago still unfilled. At Detroit the river is reported congested with the lake shipping crowding them, laden with wheat, coal and metal ore.

DEARER RAILS. Steel rails have been advanced by the Carnegie Company from $20 to $22 a ton to $23 and $25, on account of the enormous demand for steel supplies in other directions.

DEAR SHOES. Shoe manufacturers in Pennsylvania, met in Harrisburg recently, formed a mutual protective association, and decided to advance prices of shoes from 10 to 50 cents a pair.

DEAR MEATS. Touching the cause of the advance in beef prices, G. F. Swift, the packer, says: "The cause of the rise in beef cattle is due entirely to the strong demand. I can take any stock in the claim that it is due to the effort of American packers to crush Australian shippers to the European market by shipping enormous quantities of beef over the water. If any such movement is on foot I know nothing about it. Times are good. People are prosperous, and when they are prosperous they like a good article of beef and are willing to pay for it."

GENERAL BUSINESS TOPICS. STEEL BRIDGES. According to present indications, remarks the Pittsburgh Dispatch, the coming year or two will see an immense boom in steel bridge building. It is stated that about 220,000 tons of bridge construction will be let in New York within the next two weeks. The introduction of the steel truss has made the bridge business very busy, and the roads will soon be in with urgent demands. The bridge builders estimate that with the general adoption of the steel truss the business of the railroad in the country will take a ton of bridge material per mile per year.

SOUTHERN IRON. In eight months of this year Alabama and Tennessee are reported to have sent forth 1,025,794 tons of pig iron, and in the same period of time last year. During this period the two States named exported 115,115 tons of cast-iron pipe, or 21,529 tons more than was sent out in the eight months of 1898. These figures represent record-breaking shipments of iron for never before in the history of the two States has so much iron been sent from their confines—that is, during the length of time considered in the eight months. Should the present rate be maintained it is not unlikely that the movement for the year will be in the neighborhood of 2,500,000 tons more than the total for last year.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKETS.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3, 1899. Poultry rules very quiet, but prices are steady.

Wild ducks are coming forward in small quantities, and sell at $3.50 a $6 per dozen as to kind. Some jack-rabbits in yesterday's sale at $1.25 to $1.50 per dozen.

Butter is firm for all of choice quality. This is beginning to move with more briskness. Before two months pass good butter is more than likely to prove good property. The local cream yesterday's meeting decided to raise the price to 57 1/2 cents.

The Cudahy Packing Company issued a new price list yesterday. The changes are only fractional, and not many in number. Prices are firm on all meat products.

Potatoes are weak. Salinas, Burbank are generally selling at $1.25, some being held at $1.30, but some are sold below $1.25. They cost $1.15 on the track, and with loss of expense of drying, of selling and of delivering added, the cost is run over $1.17 1/2. Less than 10 cents profit on the sale under these circumstances is not good business. Indeed for a single sack the price should not be below $1.30 in any case. Sweetens sell at $1.75 for fair, $2 for good, and $2.25 for choice. Anything below these prices must be off quality.

Lemons go slowly, but holders are firm for full prices. To the end of October shipments of all citrus fruit from this section are expected to be 1898, were 10,225 carloads, making 224 carloads since July 1. The movement in November will be very small.

The price of walnuts to the trade is set at 6 1/2 cents for No. 1 soft shell in car lots, and 4 1/2 for No. 1 hard shell. For second prices are 2 cents less. French Marbols offered in New York at 8 1/2 cents.

Fresh fruits are all steady, many kinds becoming scarce. The demand for wine grapes is good at $1 to $1 1/2 per ton.

PASADENA.

HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE AND A YOUNG WOMAN MISSING.

Daisy Prushaw was either burned in the ruins or has run away. Fire caused by explosion of a lamp in her hand—strange old traveler in hospital.

PASADENA, Oct. 3.—[Regular Correspondence.] At 9 o'clock this evening, Miss Daisy Prushaw, daughter of Mrs. T. H. Prushaw, residing on Kensington street, started upstairs to retire, with a kerosene lamp in her hand. As she entered her room, the lamp exploded with a report like that of a pistol, flames flared out and in an instant the room was aflame. The ceiling being unfinished, the blaze licked up the bare boards very rapidly and ate through the roof. Other members of the family aroused the neighbors and the fire department was rung up from the box at the corner of Walnut and Vernon.

The Prushaw house was a story and a half structure, and the whole upper part was in flames when the firemen arrived. They got a good supply of water and succeeded in confining the mischief to this house, saving the lower story in a gutted condition. Other dwellings, very close, were not injured. The neighbors who took part with a will and removed the furniture from the lower part of the house. The building was worth about $1500. There was an insurance policy of $700 on it, but there is some uncertainty as to whether it had expired or not.

The house was occupied by Mrs. T. H. Prushaw, the owner, who is advanced in years and very infirm, three daughters and a young man. Mrs. Prushaw was taken to a neighbor's home in an almost exhausted condition. Her condition had been critical for some months before the fire and ill results are feared. She recently lost her husband.

At 11 o'clock tonight, Daisy Prushaw, the young lady in whose hand the lamp exploded, was missing. So far as can be ascertained, nobody saw her after the burning lamp dropped from her hand. Her mother is so broken by the events of the evening and her infirmities, that she cannot remember what happened. No other member of the family has any clue to her whereabouts. While the house was burning, they gathered at the neighbor's across the way and kept asking for Daisy, but she did not appear. After the fire was out, the police and firemen searched the ruins as well as the area could in the darkness but discovered no trace of the girl. She was 23 years of age, of dark complexion and slender figure. The greatest fear is for her, for by her hand the fire started.

A young man, Myron Hill, had been calling on her this evening, and had just left the house where she lives, when he heard the cry of fire and came back, but has not been seen since. The search will be continued in the morning. The members of the family are unharmed by Daisy's disappearance. The firemen say it is impossible for the girl's body to be in the ruins, as they have been so thoroughly investigated. Every house in the vicinity has been visited by the police. They incline to the theory that she ran frightened by the accident and ran away.

QUEER OLD MAN. A human puzzle turned up in the City Jail this morning. It was an old man of about 65 years, who wouldn't wake up. He was taken in at 2 a.m. by Officer Goltman, who found him wandering about the streets and gave him a bed. When Policeman Bristol visited the jail later in the morning to see if the old fellow was ready to get up, he found him still in bed. He couldn't arouse the old fellow. The City Physician was called and examined him. Strenuous endeavors were made to get him to consciousness. Pins were stuck into him and drugs were used, with a small measure of success. Up to the noon hour, he remained in a semi-unconscious condition; but soon afterward he aroused sufficiently to go to the County Hospital with a Constable. There he wrote a slip of paper, "Richard Hudson, house." That was all they could get out of him except the half-articulated murmur, "house." Constable Manahan, who returned from the hospital this evening, is of the opinion that the old fellow is an escapee from the County Farm. The Constable says that when the old man first saw the fence around the hospital he seemed frightened and started to run away. After he was reminded of something, he did not like. Although the traveler's shoes were dusty and there were other indications that he had traveled a long way, he was neatly dressed and cleanly kept. He looked as though he might have wandered away from a good home in a sort of stupor. After he was examined by the physician, he was laid down on a cot and was examined by the physician, but he almost immediately relapsed into unconsciousness. Probably as soon as the news of his case got abroad, some one will locate him.

AT THE CITY HALL. The City Trustees met this morning. They voted to restore the electric arc light at the corner of Marengo avenue and Colorado street, which an incandescent light was substituted. Many people hope this a precursor of the restoration of the arc along the whole stretch of East Colorado. Trustee Lockett reported that he had an application from E. C. Webster for a franchise for an electric track on Dayton street, but he suggested that no action be taken till the street had been paved according to the promise of the company. It is proposed to macadamize the street. The protest of Mrs. N. H. Mitchell against granting the franchise was placed on file. The Los Angeles and Pasadena Electric Railway was granted permission to extend its line from the powerhouse along Central street to the Santa Fe track.

All the bids for street sprinkling were rejected and the City Attorney was asked to draw up an invitation for new proposals. The superintendent of the sewer farm was appointed keeper of the animal morgue in place of the Marshal, and instructed to see to the burying of all dead cows and horses. The name of Arlington Court was changed to Arlington Drive. Central street to Ritzman street; of Locust street from North Fair Oaks avenue to North Broadway; of Holly street from Union avenue to Manzanita avenue; of West Columbia and Hill streets to Columbia street; of San Pasqual street from South Fair Oaks avenue to Manzanita avenue; of Pico street, and of Congress street between South Fair Oaks and Pasadena streets. A petition for electric lights on Winona avenue was referred to Trustee Lockett and Dobbin. The City Clerk was asked to request the commissioners on the improvement of Winona, Hudson and Garfield avenues, to report immediately. A communication was received from the League of Cali-

REPORTED LOSS OF BRITISH STEAMER NEAR CAPE HORN.

Ship Arctic Stream from Hamburg arrives at Port Los Angeles with news of shipwreck on Staten Island in August.

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 3.—[Regular Correspondence.] Two British ships from around Cape Horn sailed to position off Port Los Angeles this morning, dropped anchor within a few minutes of one another and with sails furled swung around to the breeze. The vessel was the Clan Macpherson, Capt. Macdonald, 184 days out from Swans, and the Arctic Stream, Capt. Bowen, 122 days out from Hamburg. The Arctic Stream had good weather rounding Cape Horn and nearly broke the record for quick time on the passage. On August 11, while off Staten Island, Capt. Bowen saw the British four-masted ship Gifford, bound for San Francisco, pick up some men from an open boat. By signaling he learned the Gifford had picked up five men, which was a heavy haul for the steamer Tekoa in an exhausted and frostbitten condition. The Tekoa had been wrecked a few days before on Staten Island, and the men would tell little of how the wreck had occurred or whether any of the passengers or crew were still alive.

The Tekoa was bound from New Zealand to London, and beside passengers, carried a large lot of refrigerated meat. The ship was carrying a heavy cargo of sheep. On September 9, when the Arctic Stream was at lat. 10 N., long. 116 W., while there was a heavy sea, lightning there came a terrific crash of lightning. The fore royal pole was splintered like a broom, but no other damage was done. The ship drifted across at long. 108 W. The ship drove ahead of a southwest monsoon to lat. 40 N., and then caught the northeast trade which brought her to Port Los Angeles without sailing north of lat. 34 N. The Arctic Stream has a partial cargo of cement for Port Los Angeles. The balance of her cargo is for Portland.

Capt. Macdonald's wife accompanied him on the passage on the ship Clan Macpherson. The good weather off Cape Horn. There was one casualty on the passage. While off the coast of Ireland, a young man, a student, fell overboard and sank almost before he was astern of the vessel. The boat was lowered and the missing boy, who when he fell was clad in oilskins and sea boots. The ship was nearly lost in the search for the missing boy, who when he fell was clad in oilskins and sea boots. The ship was nearly lost in the search for the missing boy, who when he fell was clad in oilskins and sea boots.

SANTA MONICA BREVITIES. A thin layer of decomposed granite is being spread on the streets here, which the loose dirt was removed a few days ago. A committee of the City Trustees is in charge of the work. The home circulation of books of the Santa Monica Public Library during September was 2318. The circulation in September, 1918, was 2755. Donations were received in the month from Mrs. Kate Lowman, Mrs. L. B. Osborn and Judge T. H. Wells. At a meeting of the City Trustees this afternoon the report of the City Treasurer submitted to the Trustees at their meeting today, show the condition of the City Treasury to be as follows: General fund, $147,851; street fund, $168,200; sewer fund, $147,851; library fund, $219,395; building fund, $179,688.

The Trustees decided not to buy a Widman road rolling machine at a present time. The Sewer Commission reported that John Quinn of Los Angeles had been engaged to act as consulting engineer with City Engineer Sanders, with regard to a proper location for a sewer farm. A petition was received from J. J. Coyne, proprietor of the Pacific Hotel, asking that the present liquor ordinance be amended so as to allow hotels to serve liquor during meal hours, claiming that under the present prohibitive ordinance the hotel business is lost. It was cited that the City of Riverside and other anti-saloon cities have such provisions in their ordinances as were amended. The petition was received and it was voted that the matter be laid over until the next meeting.

Several citizens were present and spoke upon the injustice of the dog ordinance, No. 111, and it developed that most of the Trustees seem in favor of repealing the law, although not just at the present time. The board adjourned to meet on Wednesday, October 18.

POMONA BREVITIES. Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock the first mothers' meeting of the new year will be held at the central kindergarten on Holt avenue. Prof. A. Higby of San Francisco, the civil engineer who originally surveyed the town site of Pomona, is here to note the wonderful improvements in the valley, and visiting Cyrus Burdick and other friends. A public meeting will be given at Odd Fellows' Hall Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, to W. A. Simmons and Homer Hewlett, who lately returned with letters from the Woman's Relief Corps is managing the affair, and every one is invited.

Saved by Their Mothers. Charles German and Roy Page, two newboys who tried to get rich at a bound by stealing fifty-three copies of the Sunday Times, were released on thirty-day "floaters" yesterday by Justice Morgan and turned over to their mothers to be soundly spanked. But for the intervention of the mothers, the boys would have been put to work in the chain gang.

Expenditures for Famine. SIMLA, Oct. 3.—It is estimated that the Indian government must spend $500,000 rupees to relieve famine in the central provinces, and that the local chiefs must expend at least one-third of that amount in addition.

ORANGE COUNTY.

GLOVER'S PARTNER SENTENCED TO SERVE AT FOLSOM.

Cattle-thief sent to the same place for a term of five years. Resident of Tustin Dead—Adams Inmate.

SANTA ANA, Oct. 3.—[Regular Correspondence.] Charles Leonard, the notorious partner of Herbert Glover who was shot and killed a few days ago at Orange by Officer Murray of this city, today pleaded guilty of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder, and was sentenced to ten years in the State's prison at Folsom. Leonard is only a young man, but he is believed to be one of the worst criminals that has ever visited the Coast. He has sworn vengeance upon several residents of this county and the charge of stealing a horse from the road will ruin the little park which the company has been sustaining the past several years. The fourteenth anniversary celebration of the Southern Pacific Railroad in this city in front of the depot. The improvement in the road will ruin the little park which the company has been sustaining the past several years.

Los Angeles County Pioneers. A largely-attended meeting of the Los Angeles County Pioneers was held last evening at California Hall, which was prettily decorated. Miss Blanche Mitchell and Prof. Heinze of Pasadena rendered a piano duet and elicited loud applause. F. G. Geilich recited the "Death of Benvenuto Cellini." Miss Parker rendered a selection on the guitar, and little Maude Newell gave a selection on the piano. Dr. K. D. Wise sang a solo composed by himself, which was well received. An invitation was received from the Southern Pacific Committee of San Jose to take part in the celebration of the semi-centennial of the organization of the State government, to be held at San Jose, December 20. This is intended to be a grand rally of the Argonauts of '49.

Charles B. Woodhead, Henry A. Barlow and Jeremiah Baldwin were elected members. "The Least Hair Casts a Shadow." A single drop of poison blood will, unless checked in time, make the whole impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great leader in blood purifiers. It casts no shadow, but brings sun and health into every household.

Dyspepsia.—Suffered everything but death for years with dyspepsia. Nothing relieved me until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made and kept me well. I can do anything I wish. Mrs. E. C. Murphy, Hill's Mill, Danbury, Conn. Consumptive Cough.—Five years ago I had a consumptive cough which it took me a long time to get rid of. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and recovered normal health. I have been well ever since. MARTHA BIRKBECK, Cor. Pearl and Third Streets, Los Angeles, Cal. Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Sheriff Coburn of Riverside county was in Santa Ana today for the purpose of taking the case of Harmon Alvin, who was believed to have been in that republic. He returned a few months ago and book-keeper for Wiley. He said he had been gambling considerably of late and running with bad women. When asked whether he was a gambler, he replied: "What does it matter? you have the right man." It is believed that he will plead guilty.

SANTA BARBARA BREVITIES. A Mexican named Joe Marillo was arrested here on Sunday afternoon for being free with a pistol on State street. He was given a light sentence in the County Jail, and today it was discovered that the man was a five-term. Some time ago a three-term man was found in the County Jail. The present man takes the record.

S. S. Budworth and Jennie Budworth, both giving Los Angeles as their place of residence, were arrested here yesterday by Judge W. H. Wheaton. At the Coroner's inquest held in Los Angeles yesterday, the body of a woman was found that had been death resulted from a criminal operation. From the evidence it was thought that the woman had been responsible for her death.

Anderson in Retirement. Frank L. Anderson, the bogus check manipulator who swindled John J. Shay of the reception saloon on State street, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment in the City Jail, by Justice Morgan yesterday. Anderson did not offer a word in extenuation of his offense. He was evidently glad to get out without having any questions asked about other shady transactions imputed to him. Anderson pretends to have been honorably discharged from the regular army and has many applications for a pension through Attorney Mattoon, who introduced him to Shay who cashed the bogus check.

Nerve Centers Rebuilt by Grape-Nuts, THE FAMOUS FOOD. A FOOD FACT. The food Grape-Nuts positively does furnish the necessary elements to rebuild the brain and nerve centers. Analysis will show it; food makers know it is true; and the every-day user of Grape-Nuts can take his oath that while he may not be an expert food maker, an expert chemist, he "knows enough to know" when his body is well nourished, and the seat of his reason active, forcible and in perfect poise.

Grape-Nuts are the truly mainstay of the brain and the nervous system as a good stomach is the mainstay of a healthy body. Let the "little lamp of reason shine forth" when you make selections of food. All first-class grocers sell Grape-Nuts, and the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., make them at their Battle Creek factories.

That Retain the Food and Refuse to Digest It, Make the Head Heavy and the Nerves Weak, Need Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

There is a cure for dyspepsia. Sufferers who have tried nostrums will probably be skeptical, but skepticism vanishes when Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are tried. Whether the trouble is dyspepsia of long standing, or merely a simple case of indigestion, relief is promptly and permanently obtained. The less the trouble the fewer the tablets need be taken.

Heaviness after eating, sour stomach, as indicated by belching, flatulence with slight eructation, or with no eructation at all, disturbed sleep, nervousness, constipation, depression, "bites," these things can commonly be set down as symptoms of dyspepsia. And dyspepsia is merely indigestion in an aggravated form. By promoting perfect digestion, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets produce strong nerves, restful, refreshing sleep, pure blood and good, sound, healthy flesh. They make the skin clear, the eyes bright, the mind cheerful.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a medicine more than a medicine. They digest the food and make it easy of assimilation, and they relieve the inflamed, diseased condition of the membranous linings and the glands of the stomach and bowels. They help the digestive organs over the hard portion, and put them into a healthy, active condition. They effect a quick and permanent cure. You don't have to continue taking them forever, still it is well to have a box handy and take one at the first return of the trouble.

Perfectly well people are made sick by eating too much, or unwholesome food, but not if they take a tablet after eating. Transients with Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do not need to cease eating or change of habits. They digest the proper food and act upon the other kind in such a way as to make it pass off quickly and harmlessly. You may eat and drink what you like, when you like, and as much as you like if you take a tablet afterward.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists at the full retail price. Send for F. A. Stuart & Co., Marshall, Mich., for little book on stomach diseases, mailed free.

BOLD BICYCLE THIEVES.

Clerk Hensley's Wheel Stolen Out of the Police Station.

Bicycle thieves are rather bold when they enter the Police Station and steal wheels right from under the noses of the officials. Desk Clerk Hensley left his bicycle in the corridor of the Police Station on September 29. It was there at 4 o'clock that morning, but between that hour and 9 o'clock a. m., it mysteriously disappeared. Hensley presumed that some brother officer had borrowed it to ride home upon, but as none of the officers pleaded guilty when interrogated, and time wore on without any tidings of the wheel, the conviction dawned upon the clerk that the vehicle was stolen. It is a Dayton wheel nearly as good as new, and had been stolen once before, but was recovered. The detective department has been searching for Hensley's wheel since last Saturday without success.

KNIFE USED IN A FIGHT.
Colored Woman Stabbed While at the Manhattan Club.

Rosa Banks, a colored woman, appeared at the Police Station with a companion last night at 10:30 o'clock and asked for medical attention. The woman said that she had been in a fight in the rooms of the notorious Manhattan Club on North Los Angeles street, conducted by Will Taylor, a colored man.

According to the woman's story, she was held by some of the other combatants while Joe Thompson, a mulatto, stabbed her with a knife. She was sent into the Receiving Hospital where Police Surgeon Hagan found that she had two small cuts on the left arm, another on the back and a gash on the left side of her head, one inch long and one and a half inches deep. The wounds are not serious, and after they were dressed the woman walked to her room at No. 105 Aliso street.

Thompson is about 26 years old. His father is janitor and night watchman at the City Hall, and young Thompson has been in the habit of assisting his father with the work. Last night Thompson, Sr., left his son in charge of the building and young Thompson has been in the habit of remaining at his post of duty the young man locked up and went to the Manhattan Club.

When the Banks woman had told her story at the Police Station one of the detectives immediately went to the City Hall in quest of young Thompson, but the building was locked, and the officer sought him elsewhere. A call was made at the Thompson residence, but the young man was not there. Later his parents were met as they were coming out of church, but they professed ignorance as to the whereabouts of their son, supposing him to be on duty at the City Hall.

The detective again visited the City Hall, and found that, during his absence, young Thompson had unlocked the place and unlocked the side door. A thorough search of the place was made, but the bird had flown.

Pompey Smith, who had some trouble of his own at the Manhattan Club on Monday evening, as a consequence of which he threatened all sorts of dire vengeance against the proprietor of the place, called at the Police Station early this morning, and denied that young Thompson had cut the Banks woman. He said that the trouble was confined to the women, and that the cutting must have been done by one of their number, but the officer placed very little credence in Pompey's story.

FARICAL PROSECUTION.
Complaints Against Drillers of Parker's Oil Wells.

The Oil Inspector swore to a complaint yesterday morning before Justice Morgan, charging the "drillers" on each of the two oil wells inside the line near Sunset Park, with a misdemeanor. These wells belong to Police Commissioner Parker, but no complaint has as yet been sworn against him. The City Attorney says that no such thing as agency is known to the law in cases of this kind, and it is necessary to arrest the persons actually engaged in working on the wells. No warrants were issued on the complaint, and the drillers had not appeared in court last night. Inspector Monlux, who swore to the complaints, did not know the names of the men a few hours later. The oil men are confident that they will succeed in getting the protected territory reduced in area, and assert that they have six Councilmen on their side. Two of the six declared publicly a few days ago that they would not vote to change the line, but they probably will, being "committed" to the oil ring one thing and belied to the public is quite another.

Y.M.C.A. Lectures.

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," or "The Dual Nature of Man," was the subject taken last evening by Rev. Leonard Garver in his course of lectures at the Young Men's Christian Association. The speaker portrayed the incidents in Robert Louis Stevenson's well-known book, and drew his lessons from the conflicting forces which find lodgment in man. The next lecture will be given tomorrow evening, when Garver will discuss "The Christian," or "Success or Failure." The series of lectures is free and attended by both ladies and gentlemen.

ADVANCE SALE OF AUTUMN AND WINTER
HOSIERY AND UNDERWEAR
FOR MEN, WOMEN, BOYS, GIRLS, BABIES.

Inaugural sale of knitted underwear for the whole family. A collection of extraordinary, rare, signal, unusual, remarkable values. All the adjectives in the dictionary could not impress you as a single, careful examination. Our greatest efforts are exerted along the line of underwear and hosiery buying. We are in each instance the direct agent of the manufacturer. No jobber or middleman derives a profit from our customers. Our efforts are put forth with one idea in view, viz., the bettering of qualities. For any stated price we will guarantee to give better garments than can possibly be given by stores buying and selling in smaller quantities.

In selecting underwear we are careful about the shaping and the finish. No garment is admitted here that will not give the utmost satisfaction, and if by chance any garment is not suited to individual requirements it is returnable if unharmed. Money back if you ask it. "Better values for the money than commonly found" is the principle that has brought us the greatest hosiery and underwear trade hereabouts.
